FOREWORD

THE Class of Nineteen Hundred and Forty-one extends to those who peruse these pages most sincere greetings and earnest hope that this edition may prove significant. We have chosen "Patriotism" for the GAZETTE theme this year in an endeavor to express our consciousness regarding the world in which we live. We realize that the preparations of our high school days will find a strenuous testing ground in the exigencies of the future. We are ready to serve and to prove ourselves, knowing that in whatever capacity this service might be made manifest, our citizenship, loyalty and honest patriotism cannot be regarded lightly.

May the fervent desires of this graduating class to make a worthy contribution to its nation be fulfilled and help to bring that wiser day when order is resolved from chaos, and war will have been supplanted with a worthy peace.

THE EDITOR.

BOOK II

Literary

Class Will

To whom it may concern: We, the distinguished class of '41, being of sound mind and body and everlasting memory do hereby establish our last will and testament.

SECTION I

To Lock Haven High School, our dear Alma Mater, for the four years of friendship and happiness, we bequeath our sincere best wishes for success in ensuing years.

To our Principal, Mr. R. I. Hoch, and his able assistant, Miss Gresser, we bequeath our humblest gratitude for their kindly aid.

To the Faculty, we offer our deepest thanks for their expert guidance in assisting us over the rough places.

SECTION II

To the up and coming Sophomores of '44 who follow fumblingly in our footsteps, we leave a compass, a map, a Boy Scout and ample provisions to last until rescued by the light of experience and knowledge.

To the approaching Juniors, we wish to share a small part of our dignity and charm that they help to do justice to our memory.

To those who take our places as dignified Seniors in the Citadel of Learning, we bestow upon them all of our wit and charm and all other necessary virtues so that they do justice to our vacated positions.

SECTION III

To the students who remain:

1. George Settell wishes to bestow upon jolly Earl Lentz his infectuous sense of humor.

2. We leave Marge Watson's ability and well planned method to be noticed to her sister Dorothy.

3. We leave Violet Peter's dimpled grin to any one who finds the need of such a charming asset.

4. Frenchy Zimmerman bequeaths his alibis for not having his work done on time to Tom Heffner.

5. We leave Mort Claster's fear of women to Donald Swope that he may carry on as a living monument to Mort's memory.

6. Jack Banghart leaves a few inches of his height to Carl McGill.

Class Will

7. Sammy Shoemaker shall inherit Howdy Hurd's sportsmanship.

8. Clayone Kline shall have Midge Welch's comb with which she can hardly part.

9. We leave Mary Jane Earon's and Dick Sarvey's schedule to Doc Thomas and Eleanor Tobias so that they can be together during change of classes.

10. Mickey Harman and Althea Trivelpiece leave their vacancies as school artists to anyone who wishes to be a slave for everyone's cause.

11. Allen Motter and Bill Lee give all their fantastic excuses about lateness and absences to anyone who has the ability to get away with them.

12. Calvin Casselberry bestows upon Fred Dietz the brains which carried him through school as one of the most intelligent.

13. We leave Jimmy McLaughlin's long line of feminine admirers to to Dwight Helt in the hope that he can meet all the requirements.

14. Leona Stiefel's date book shall go to Jane Bauman so that she need never fear of a night at home.

15. Joe Spirito leaves his ability to make friends and hold their friendship to Bucky Robinson.

16. Bill Henderson bestows upon Brooke McGhee his secret of holding that athletic physique.

17. Grace Mary Nixon shall inherit Joy Bridgen's dancing ability and she shall have a partner who dances like our Jim Andrus.

18. Tom Heckel's chair in Dramatics Class shall become the property of Robert Stetson so that he may have his afternoon siesta.

19. Our typewriting shark, Lusetta Allison, leaves her secret of typing to Rosemary McNerney.

20. All of Ed Foye's helmets are left to the school with the sincere hope that some day someone shall have need of them.

21. To the leading actress of next year's Senior class play we leave Marjorie McGill's formula for a perfect performance.

22. We also leave the sincere hope that all the classes which shall follow after us shall enjoy their years in high school as much as we enjoyed ours.

To this our last will we affix our signature on this thirty-first day of April in the year of our graduation.

ANNE HAMILTON.

THE SPOTLIGHT

How about listening awhile,
Until I go through the Senior file,
For I will attempt to write
Of the followers of the Purple and White.

I'll tell you first about Coleman,
So strong and handsome is our Ben.
He's only interested in football,
As is Poorman, stately and tall.

We have a very brilliant lass,
Who leads all of her class.
Her name happens to be Clark
Studying for her is just a lark.

Bill Lee in his Ford does fly,
Helter-skelter between here and the sky.
So when you hear the entrance of Lee
You'd better safely on the sidewalk be.

Ann is our president full of fun and vim.
Her only thoughts are the Senior Class and Jim.
When you ask here where she's been
She'll reply, "Why I've been with him."

Spirito may be short and small
But his opponents all to him do fall
Joe is a wrestler of might and fame
If only bashfulness he could but tame.

Lusetta is our typewriting shark.
Then too we mustn't forget our "Spark"
Sorry girls he's not for sale
Because he belongs to a lassie in Clintondale (?)

Now my little versions done;
Have I offended anyone?
To bring some fun was but my aim.
If I've succeeded, I'll call again.

MARY JANE EARON.

AN EVERYDAY FIGHT

He crouched in his seat, waiting expectantly for the bell. Arriving early, he had had nothing to do until the encounter started so that now, although apprehensive as to the outcome of this engagement, he waited impatiently for the bell to ring and relieve the monotony.

He started from his seat as the bell sounded. It had almost caught him napping. A quick rush and he found himself in the center of the fray. Just dodged that last rush. Have to watch out for side attacks. That's what comes from not watching. Have to be more on the alert; the last one threw me off balance.

At last he was half way finished. Don't know why anyone endures this day after day, but then it's sort of fun. Dreaming again. Wasn't at all prepared for that last blow. It almost ruined me.

At last! Now his goal was in sight, but the worst was yet to come. It was about time he did something to finish this. He changed desperately, and then after a great deal of jostling he was in the auditorium for chapel, having traveled the entire distance from the third floor on the day before vacation.

CALVIN CASSELBERRY.

ODE TO A RIVER

O deep river, thou the groove of earth's flow,
Thou, from thy mouth gushes of water go,
Taking the slime and grime of earth along,
Folding und'r the melody of life's song,
Thou, whose unseen fins carry away leaves,
Autumn's lost sign of life your vast stream heaves,
And all those tears of yesterday have come
Within thy bound'ry to bear winter's drum
Of piercing cold and low winds that freeze thee
Waiting until warm breezes of spring free
That tight-fit blanket of surface tension
That the sun of summer cast attention
On ye river waters to purify,
Hear, Oh hear, deep river, here thou my cry!

If I were a stream that thou mightest bear,
Force and power of flowing thou wouldst share
So that I might dissolve that many thought
Of continual melancholy draught
And wash morbid senses in the ocean
To drown them in thy vast deadly potion,
Or that the sun would beat down its rays
To brighten my stream of deep, gloomy days
And make free and unconcerned my short life
With thy deep strong waters that heal all strife.
Or, if I were a leaf that thou might bear,
Thou would carry me far, leaving no care.
O uncontrollable, who has no fear
But is feared, hear my despairing cry, hear!

JOAN VOGT.

LINES ON BEING TOLD TO DO SOME CREATIVE WORK

I sat one midnight lonely in my room,
My spirits sunk in all-pervading gloom.
Before me lay a sheet of paper white
On which I must a poem or tale indite,
Or else my grade in English, from a G
Would fall to that disgraceful mark, a D.

Then a bright spirit hovered o'er my head
And said, "You foolish boy, go on to bed.
Too many would-be poets write bad verse;
What you would write would probably be worse.
You can't expect the Muse to give you aid;
She doesn't care two straws about your grade."

JUDSON LONG.

IT'S GREAT

It's great to be an American,
To live in the land of the free;
It's great to be laughing and happy,
With a chance at life's liberty.

It's great to be able to salute the flag,
And to play so great a part,
In a country so fair, a country so true,
In a country held dear in your heart.

It's great to hear songs of allegiance
To the country all nations admire;
It's great to be subject to fair play,
A thing that all peoples desire.

It's great to give prayers of Thanksgiving
To a God held high in revere,
For a land that we cherish and honor,
For a land where there is no fear.

ETHEL WENKER.

OUR AIM

Twelve years we have strived to prepare ourselves for the future. We have worked and studied at our own chosen subject. Some preferring the Commercial studies, preparing for office and other Commercial work. Others chose the Academic studies. These being the basis studies for higher and advanced knowledge to be obtained in our Colleges and Universities. As we leave the school on our graduation day it is with a feeling of satisfaction that we will find our place, and fill it with our best always.

FAYE BOWES.

PLEA TO A STAR

The hill was steep, so steep he found
Climbing the hill for higher ground.
Weary, he rested, on restful sods;
Here he was alone, so alone with God.
While Nature slept, his mind awoke;
Let us listen to thoughts he spoke.
First, I want strength, Oh! star above,
For without strength what is love?
Spotless gem your position give,
That nearer God, I might live.
And so, Oh! star you've heard my plea,
Can I by you, a better man be?

PAULINE SHAFFER.

THE PURPLE AND WHITE

Purple and White! Those words have a meaning second only to our Alma Mater. To every student or alumni those colors stand for their school and no other school. Those colors cause many of Lock Haven's Alumni to reminisce—of classes, parties, teachers, football games and in general, the congenial good times of school days.

Our colors are well chosen, not only are they rare as school colors, but the interpretation of the "purple" and the "white" sets forth high standards.

The early Phonecians first discovered a way of making purple dye. A great many shell-fish were pressed, in order to obtain one drop of this precious oil, so valuable and totally necessary for the dye. Due to this fact, purple cloth was very expensive and only kings could afford to wear it.

Royal purple, a king's color, a color of distinction, distinguishing the court's robes from the commonpeople's clothing, is just as precious today to Lock Haven High School and its associates.

White is not only half of our school colors, but a part of our national tri-colors. Purity is almost a homonym with whiteness. Spotless snow from the celestial clouds has always been considered as pure.

Now, let us look at those colors again, purple and white. Does the purple seem just a bit more stately and the white more pure? Remember this, when next you see or wear these colors. Also, remember that they belong to our individual school and that they are OUR flying banners.

JEANNE MAURER.

YES! I DRIVE A CAR

Oh sure, sure I drive a car.
Just give me a chance and watch me go.
What do I do first? Turn this gadget?
What is it? Oh, don't tell me—I know.

All set? Here we go!
Hold on, this may be rough.
It's been so long since I drove a car.
That it's gonna' be mighty tough.

Oops—there goes a fender.
Everything's not quite right.
Oh, I should grip the wheel?
Then I should hold it tight?

Oh, you drive—I must be tired.
It's been so long ago
Since I sat upon my dady's knee
To make the auto go.

MILLICENT WELCH.

SONNET TO THE TREES

Oh mightiest of the monuments of God,
We look on you with wonder and with awe;
From redwoods to the land of the golden rods
For centuries you have stood both straight and tall.

The greenness of your foliage in the spring,
Inspires each person in all walks of life.
You help them find the way to greater things,
You make them strong for conflicts and for strife.

In autumn when your leaves take on new shades,
You make a person's heart leap up with joy;
Your colors flame through many forest glades;
And gives us beauty no one can destroy.

For men who want a symbol for the free,
I know no better one than God's own tree.

ROSE MINNIE PROBST.

HOME

Home is the most beautiful and lovely place I know,
It's a place many of us love to go,
Some of us just think, as our lives onward flow,
That it's a resting place when feeling low.

Home is just the place to lose our troubles in,
Home is the place where we can find such bliss;
Often times we think what our home might have been,
If we had been a person whom home would miss.

When we are grown and our dear parents gone,
We find we've learned our lesson too late;
We realize we have lost something we are fond,
Because we find we cannot play the hand of fate.

Home is not a place where we can always go,
Let us stay at home and not worry our parents so.

MARIE MOODLER.

VACATION

It's such a chore to go to school;
It ruins your whole day.
It leaves you time for nothing else
But work—No fun, no play.

We long for holidays to come,
And plan what we shall do.
We'll sleep till noon, then eat our fill,
And dance the whole night through.

We'll skate and ski and go on hikes,
And let our books get dusty.
We'll fill our lungs with good fresh air.
Who cares if brains are rusty?

It's all right for a day or two,
Or three or even four.
But after that vacation
Turns into a frightful bore.

JOSEPH LONG.

A MOTHER'S PROBLEM

With gentle care she wrapped the wee infant with the big blue blanket, tenderly she caressed its soft golden curls, then, as she looked into its serene face she placed a loving kiss upon its faultless pink cheek. Weary thoughts and problems raced over a well-worn track of worry in her harassed mind. A glancing search around the busy park revealed a shaded, solitary bench. She hesitated for only an instant as her swift but careful hands, laid the tiny figure on it. Stumbling in her haste, as she turned from its loving sweetness, she realized, deep in her heart the problem of many young mothers, age five and a half years when their friends call them to play.

JEANNE MAURER.

A FRIEND

Life is a long hard journey
From beginning to the end.
There's none can smooth the pathway,
Like a kind and steadfast friend.

When care and griefs distress you,
And Life seems so bare and sad,
There's one who'll try to help you
And will want to make you glad.

There's always one that's willing,
To stick with you to the end.
Life wouldn't be so thrilling
If you didn't have—a friend.

SHIRLEY COOK.

IF——!

If you don't feel just right,
If you don't sleep at night,
If you moan and sigh,
If your throat is dry,
If you can't drink,
If your food tastes like ink,
If your heart doesn't beat
If you've got cold feet,
If your head's in a whirl
Why don't you marry the girl?

MARY JANE EARON.

HEART'S LONGING

What matters if there's a splendid throng,
Brilliant lights or a thrilling song;
The music o'er me holds no sway,
Because I know you are away.

To me the beautiful sunset skies,
Do not compare with your blue eyes;
There is no beauty in all the day,
Because, my dear, you are away.

How can I laugh and jest,
With this aching and longing in my breast;
I love only you, I softly say,
And yet, and yet you are away.

My love, if you but knew,
How my heart longs for you;
How dark and lonely seems the way,
Because, because you are away.

MARY JANE EARON.

OUR FRIEND

There is a little fellow,
Whom we shall always know.
Whether in or out of school,
In rain in sleet or in snow.

His hair is brown with streaks of white,
His tail so short and stubby,
Although he doesn't go to school,
This little fellow is no dummy.

He likes some foods with Ice Cream his choice
This dog, our friend will always be,
The friend of all girls and boys,
He is our friend—Mickey.

Class Prophecy

JUNE 18, 1950

Going home at last! My what happy memories that thought recalled. I was at last returning after ten years away from the old home town, Lock Haven.

While on my way to mail a letter to the folks there just to let them know that I was coming for a visit, I encountered Calvin Casselberry and Polly Hawkins. By their actions, I soon discovered that they were on their wedding trip. We were overjoyed to see each other and I was late before I realized it. Looking at my watch, I decided to hail a taxi. The taxi drew up and the driver opened the door with a flourish and a business-like, "Where to, Madam?" Can you imagine my surprise when I recognized Frenchy Zimmerman? Frenchy said that driving was not his job, but one of the drivers had taken ill suddenly and he and Tom Heckel had tossed a coin to see who would take the ill man's place. The next thing I knew Frenchy was telling me that he and Tom owned the taxi business.

The next day I packed in anticipation of my visit, and called a taxi to take me to the station. I was waiting for the train having bought my ticket, when my gaze fell upon a girl who looked familiar. She turned and there was Joy Bridgens. Joy and Jim Andrus, her partner, were professional dancers. They had been touring the country and were now going home for a short vacation. Our train arrived twenty minutes late; a fault of the engineer. Imagine our astonishment when we learned that Marshall Baughman was the engineer.

Comfortably settled in our places we began the tiresome journey home. The topic of our conversation was our old school chums and this is what I learned about them.

Leona Stifel has become a foreign buyer for a New York store. June Quiggle, Dora Mae Burkett, Eleanor Love, and Lois Ohl were now registered nurses. Mort Claster has started a museum at Lock Haven and lately received world recognition. The ambitions of Howard Hurd and Allen Motter have been realized for they are now civil engineers. Jeanne Maurer and Marian Coffey are now the two best technicians in America. Millicent Welch, Vada Nixon, Lusetta Allison, Ethel Wenker and Lura Wurster are now private secretaries in Lock Haven. To think that Rose Minnie Probst and Grayce Maree Chambers have become the two foremost fiction writers in the world. Joe Long and Louis Ricker have become the proud owners of an industry that manufactures a contraption that can be made into a car or airplane with just the press of a button. Judson Long has achieved fame as an aviator and inventor, having discovered the astounding fact that airplanes can be put into reverse in mid-air (a discovery too complicated for me or even Judson to understand).

Louise Clark is a well known designer of American clothes for women. Bill Lee is employed by the government as a radio operator. The two studious Latin pupils,

Class Prophecy

Shirley Cook and Marjorie McGill, have forsaken Caesar and have become the wives of two prominent business men in Los Angeles. Benny Coleman had soared to the height of popularity as a sensational football player in College. He is now coaching at the Lock Haven High School.

Dick Sarvey and Mary Jane Earon were married and are now sailing for the darker part of Africa in the hope of bringing a little civilization to the natives. Stinky Hartzell is a minister at the Reformed Church in Lock Haven. Violet Peters is a popular speaker on a famous radio program. Joan and Mary Vogt publish a monthly magazine concerned with informing young girls on manners and clothes. Jimmy McLaughlin and Pete Carter own a factory which manufactures young gentlemen's shoes.

Marjorie Watson is the present day women's golf champion. Elizabeth Bowe, Anna Galbraith, Marilouise McAllister and Jane McGill have all taken beauty courses and now operate the most fashionable beauty salon in New York. Betty Simcox and Arleena Phillips own a fox farm and raise the best foxes in the world. Vincent Astolf is known as Barnum and Bailey's best lion tamer. Sara Smeltzer is a fabulously wealthy opera singer. Kenney Hoy and Bill Rickard sponsor a campaign to rid the world of mosquitoes. Richard Bolopue and Eugene Beckenbaugh work at Washington for the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Jack Banghart and Henry Mellinger run a chain of automobile supply stores. Betty Andrus and Phyllis Duff operate "The Madamoiselle Dress Shop" at Newark, New Jersey. George Settell has become the foreign correspondent for the Clinton County Times. Jean Neff is now district manager of J. C. Penney Stores. Althea Trivelpiece and Mildred Harman are commercial artists for the stores operated by Edwin Ritter.

Ed Foye now coaches wrestling at Oklahoma A. and M. Bernadine Barnard is the stewardess on the Queen Mary. Mae Conaway and Ethel Yarnell are spies for our government. Vigora Shoes are sold by Jean Wright and Hilma Swartz. The Jiggo-Juggo Grocery Stores are owned by Robert Ankney, Walter Barner and Bob Bauman. Kenney Brownlee, Allen Chapman and Albert Lachet are life savers at Coney Island. Marguerite Knecht owns the best tobacco growing farm in United States.

As the train comes to a grinding halt, we realize that we are in Lock Haven. The time certainly went quickly. As I bid farewell to Joy and Jimmy the family comes rushing forward. In the excitement I am pulled toward the car. Safely within its sanctuary I think how pleasant it is to look forward to a summer among old friends after teaching a host of young children in Seattle, Washington, how to read and write.

ANNE HAMILTON.

With all of last year's varsity returning the prospects for the 1941 season were very bright, and the club was organized early in the school term.

This year the club set out to raise money by selling magazine subscriptions. They did an excellent job, making over fifty dollars, and the girls turned out to be the better salesmen.

A high honor was paid to the club when they were asked to send an affirmative team to Harrisburg to participate in a demonstration debate with a negative team from Monessen before the Pennsylvania speech teachers' round table. Our representatives were William North and Max Coploff. Three other members of the squad, Calvin Casselberry, Lois McCool, and Joseph Rumberger were members of a Student Senate held at the same time.

Lock Haven entered six tournaments this year and won four of them. In the Lehigh Valley tournament we placed second and in the Eastern Pennsylvania N. F. L. District tournament we placed third.

Only two Seniors are to be lost by graduation this year, so we may look forward to another highly, if not more successful season.

The members of the Tri-Hi-Y Club were kept very busy this year in carrying out their various activities. One of the highlights of an enjoyable social season was a hike and wiener roast which was held near the beginning of the year. The basketball team proved to be fairly successful and the players entertained the players of the Renovo Tri-Hi-Y team after one of the games.

The more serious side of the club is exemplified by the devotions which are held at every meeting and by a Thanksgiving basket that was made up of donations from members of the club.

At the meetings there were various interesting speakers who gave talks on vocations and other subjects. At another meeting a personality test was given. The club put on several chapel programs and near the end of the year had a swimming party.

The French Club, under Miss Blair's directorship, was organized to stimulate the French student's interest in the French language. The club's bi-monthly meetings are spent learning and playing educational French games, learning about France through two French newspapers to which the club subscribes and listening to guest speakers.

The most constructive activity of the club this year was the putting on of a puppet show, Cinderella, which was given in French.

The social activities were highlighted by a party at the Victorian and the annual club picnic.

The 1940-41 Choral and Glee Clubs have had a most successful year being in various programmes given in the school and churches of both Clinton and Lycoming Counties. One of these engagements being broadcasted over WRAK from the stage and auditorium of the Williamsport Senior High School. Following the programme the Clubs were entertained by the members of the Williamsport Student Body, who acted as guides on a trip through the school. The Clubs have appeared in Beech Creek, Blanchard, the Consolidated School of Salona, Flemington and various other places. We wish all of our Senior members the greatest degree of success and happiness as they enter their new fields of study as they take their places in our community and higher schools of learning.

The school year 1940-41 marked the second year of the life of the school paper, The Bobcat. Designed primarily as a news sheet, the Bobcat, because of the already founded Hi-News, this year shifted its policy, and became a paper with a three-fold purpose; first to institute reforms by pointing them out in its editorial columns; secondly, to keep the school informed in the field of sports and last as a gossip sheet.

Since, only a few members of the staff are graduating this year, the Bobcat looks forward to another promising season.

Spanish Club

In 1940-41 the first Spanish class of the Lock Haven High School was started. The thirteen members of the class have formed a Spanish Club. The purpose of the club is to promote good-will between the members and learn about Spanish customs. The members are planning a series of meetings to celebrate a number of holidays in the Spanish manner. The club has no officers because there are so few members. The chairman of each meeting is chosen from the class roll alphabetically.

The Lock Haven High School Band is composed of fifty-four members under the direction of Mr. Garth Kleckner. These members are from the Junior and Senior High Schools. The main purpose in belonging to this organization is the playing of the finer music which is of great educational value to the members. The band devotes its efforts in the fall to the football season. During the winter and spring the band plays at concerts, for the chapel exercises and for affairs in the city and close vicinity. Ten members participated in the Central District festival at Wellsboro and twelve members were enrolled in the All-State Band in May at Lock Haven. We also leave orchids to the Band Mothers Association for their splendid help in making this band year a success.

The Future Farmers of America is an organization of farm and other rural boys organized to promote future rural leadership, personal responsibility, and group activity.

During the past year they have achieved state recognition in projects and judging, locally they have provided many social affairs and helped put over the Farm Show.

They meet the first Monday night of each month and hold special meetings during activity periods when activities demand.

The Junior Class play, "Green Stockings," proved to be a huge success. Under the direction of Mrs. Lawrence the cast worked diligently to put on a good performance.

The committees all cooperated in every way possible, and carried out their various assignments in a commendable manner.

Faculty Business Manager, Mr. Albert Hauke, and Student Business Manager, Miss Jane Gibb, reported the play a success financially.

FOOTBALL

After the dismal seasons of the past few years the Bobcats set out to re-capture Lock Haven's place in the football sportlight. The team had the best season in years. They suffered only one defeat, that was at the hands of the powerful Steelton eleven. The Bobcats had plenty of fight, spirit, and cooperation and the old "Do or Die" spirit which led to the Susquehanna League Championship. Many members of this year's squad will be lost through graduation but one thing we are sure of is that if this year's team's spirit is instilled into the teams of coming years we need not fear that Lock Haven will not be well represented on the gridiron.

VARSITY TEAM

JUNIOR VARSITY

BASKETBALL

The 1940-41 Basketball Team had a fairly successful season, winning ten and losing eight games.

The starting five, made up of four Juniors and one Senior, was able to move Lock Haven up to third place in the Central League.

Many close games high-lighted the season. Two of these were with Jersey Shore, the Central League Champions.

Although Captain Allen Motter, Benjamin Coleman, Richard Sarvey, Howard Hurd and George Settell, lettermen, will be lost by graduation, the Bobcat aggregation of next season should add to the glory of Lock Haven High School on the "hardwood."

WRESTLING

The end of this year's wrestling season brought to a close the fourth year of its existence in the Lock Haven High School. It has shown great improvement this year, as we had the best squad since the team was organized in 1938. The Dual Meet Records show only two defeats: to the strong DuBois squad, 28-14, and to the powerful Clearfield matmen, 31-7. To balance this the other column shows seven victories over: Mt. Carmel, 23-19; Tyrone, 34-6; State College, 28-14; Lewistown, 41-2; Muncy-Muncy Creek, 26-14; Philipsburg, 32-8, and Shamokin, 26-14. In the nine matches the Purple matmen piled up a total of 231 points to their opponents' 136 points.

At the District Meet the Purple flew high again as our Joe Spirito, 95-pound class, came through with the title. Joe was the only man in the tournament to collect 15 points out of a possible 15. Close on Joe's heels was Frank Tallman, who took second place honors in the 85-pound class, and Leard "Bucky" Robinson, who was a silver medal winner in the 165-pound division.

This year's Senior wrestlers, Edward Foye, 185-pound class; Francis Hartzell, 125-pound class, who with Foye are the last members of the original team of four years ago; Joseph Spirito, 95-pound class and who was a three-year man; graduate leaving best wishes for more successful seasons.

Except for the 185-pound class the outlooks are very good for next year. The vacancies in the 125-pound and 95-pound divisions can be filled by the new material, but it will be more difficult to fill the position held by Edward Foye for the last four years.

The members of the Varsity are:

* Franklin Tallman	85-pound
* Joseph Spirito	95-pound
* Robert Roach	105-pound
* Robert Stehman	115-pound
* Francis Hartzell	125-pound
Lloyd Bartholomew	135-pound
Max Heinrich	145-pound
* William Holland	155-pound
* Leard Robinson	165-pound
* Edward Foye	185-pound

* Lettermen.

Coach: Jay Allen Miller.

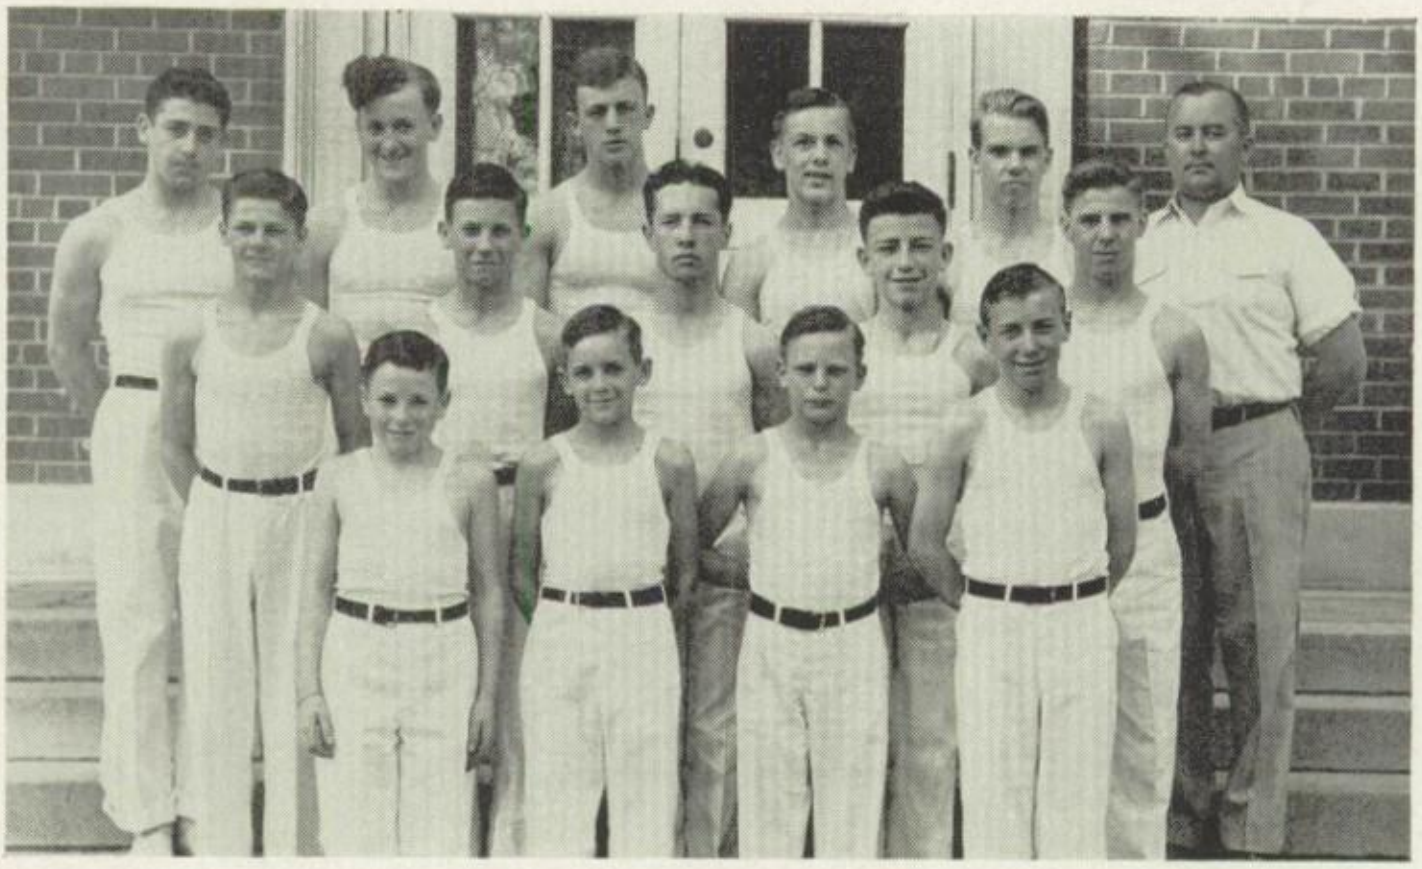
CHEERLEADERS

The cheerleaders have finished their third highly successful season under the tutelage of Mr. Painter. They've done a very commendable job of leading the student body in the support of their victorious football, basketball, and wrestling teams. Many favorable comments have been received from the communities visited by the teams as to the high quality of the exhibitions put on by the fellows and girls in the purple and white.

The highlight of the season was the trip to Steelton. There they enjoyed a very hospitable reception by the excellent Steelton High Pep Squad.

With only three Seniors being lost by graduation, the prospects for next year are even brighter than this year.



BOYS' TUMBLING

The Lock Haven High School Tumbling team has been in existence for eleven years. The team is composed of fourteen boys representing the Junior and Senior High Schools. Mr. Viechnicki has trained his boys to become skilled in their routine. We hope that in future years this sport will become one of the leading activities of the school.

Left to Right—Donald Welch, Robert Shadle, Robert Grossman, Calvin Casselberry, David Thomas, Marshall Brown
Brooks McGhee annd John Thomas also played on the team

GOLF

The 1941 golf team had the most successful season in the history of the school and deserves much praise. Calvin Casselberry and David Thomas were the "star" players.

More and more interest is being shown in this sport each year, and under Coach Hoch auxiliary teams are becoming state renowned.

The 1941 schedule consisted of two matches with State College, Bellefonte, Lewistown, and one match with Williamsport.

David Thomas qualified for the state matches by playing in the districts at State College.

Front Row, Left to Right—Nick Crowley, Dwight Helt, Paul Claster
Back Row—Robert Knarr, Coach John F. Blake, Earl Lentz, Jr.
Absent from the picture are Joseph Long and Joseph Verrilli

TENNIS

This year's tennis team is a veteran one with the exception of one member.

The netmen were victorious in their first two matches winning over two strong opponents, State College and Williamsport.

They have four more matches to play, two matches each with Clearfield and Lewistown. The team has a good chance to go through the season undefeated.

Front Row, Left to Right—Bush, Ricker, Hartzell, Nevins, Berry, Klepper
Second Row—Coach Hoy, Temple, Wadsworth, Hurd, Brillhart, Stimpson, Yarnell, Manager Zimmerman
Back Row—McDermit, North, Long, Stover, Shaffer, W. Fredericks, Shoemaker
Not Present—J. Fredericks, McGhee, Wilt, Dise, Massorti,Chapman

TRACK

Outlooks for track were far from bright this year, as only three lettermen returned. However, Coach Hoy set out to build a team around these three, and from the results did a very commendable job. Although we did not win a single meet, we did put up a very fine showing. The results of the meets held at the time of this writing are:

State College, 64; Lock Haven, 53.

Williamsport, 116; Lock Haven, 68; Jersey Shore, 22.

Mountain League Meet—Lock Haven, third, 28 points.

At the Mountain League Meet Lock Haven gained four first places, as many as any other school. They were in High Hurdles, Low Hurdles, Discus, and 440-yard run. This is real evidence of quality.

Although we will be losing a large group from this year's squad by graduation, indications are for as good a team next year.

Girls' Athletics

The year 1941 has given to the girls gymnasium classes one of the most successful years. The basketball season proved one of the finest with many teams competing for honors. The champion basketball team, "The Streaks," captained by Dorothy Kammerer, proved themselves to be worth honors received. Second place was taken by "The Invincibles."

The Tri-Hi-Y Club formed a powerful basketball team which played games with the Renovo Tri-Hi-Y and the Piper Aircraft girls.

Through the efforts of our gym instructress, Miss Eleanor Leathers, many new features have been added to the gym schedule. Archery, shuffle board, and dancing classes are among the new added features.

School Notes

Our Senior year in High School will probably be the one longest remembered; and it isn't unreasonable to say that it should be. There are so many little things that happened this year, though they seem unimportant now contribute largely to our futures. The big things we don't forget, but the little one slip quietly away and are lost. We hope this school calendar serves the purpose behind it, namely to call to mind the little things.

SEPTEMBER

4—Well we are really Seniors at last. (Even if we do have a sleepy look around the eyes).

The Social Relations Committee did a splendid job getting everyone settled these days.

5—Seniors or not, school is school. Full length periods were observed today.

We welcome warmly a new course, Spanish, into the curriculum.

10—The first Senior Chapel opened on a serious note with an admonition to those students who are considering going to college by Mr. Hoch.

20—We noticed in the first issue of Hi-News today that home room elections are in full sway.

21—Our football season opened brightly this afternoon with the defeat of Renovo, 30-0.

28—Emporium was added to our list of vanquished today, 26-0.

OCTOBER

5—Our eleven met strong Steelton today and lost, 13-0, but this was no real defeat and we all know it.

11—Today was one of the days when we all believe education has its points. We had the afternoon off because of the P. S. E. A. meeting.

12—Back in our stride again, Northumberland falls before our might, 6-0.

15—The first issue of our own school paper rolled off the press today. We all join in wishing more power to the Bobcat.

16—Whether conscription is right or wrong bothers us not in the least because it gave us another holiday.

19—Amid fluries of snow our new grand stands were used for the first time for the game with Milton which ended in a deadlock, 6-6.

26—Lewistown was another scalp for our belts with a score of 26-0.

28—The themes for National Education Week were begun today.

NOVEMBER

1—All most before we knew it, two months of school have rolled into the past.

9—Amidst many thrills Bellefonte fell before our onslaught 20-7. We are very proud of our boys even though most of our cheers don't show it.

10-16—National Education Week was observed, with our doors opened especially to our parents.

16—The Huntingdon boys managed to hold our eleven to a 6-6 tie.

19—With some misgivings and a lot of curiosity the Seniors opened those envelopes containing their proofs.

27—3:05 today marked the beginning of our Thanksgiving holiday.

School Notes

28—Because of deep snow on the field the Jersey Shore game was postponed a week.

30—By downing Jersey Shore 34-0 today we made ourselves victors in the Susquehanna League.

DECEMBER

2—School looked pretty empty today as deer season helped usher in colder weather.

20—Christmas vacation began this day while the whole school viewed with justifiable pride the Christmas exhibit in the playground.

We wonder who minds more the lack of ice, Mr. Hoch or "us kids"?

JANUARY

2—Back in school again we settled ourselves for the long period between New Year's and Easter.

3—The basketball team began its successful season by defeating the Alumni tonight.

17—Probably the most successful senior play, both financially and dramatically, "That Girl Patsy," was held this evening that has been put on for several years.

29—With bated breath and trembling we crept cautiously into class for our mid-year examinations.

FEBRUARY

12—A holiday on this, Lincoln's birthday, came as a welcome breath to our weary brains.

26—The first Lenten service was held today with a fairly good attendance on the part of the school.

MARCH

10—School attendance was fairly normal in spite of a very heavy snow storm. Most everyone has a cold or the grip or maybe even the flu.

21—That strange look in our eyes was just the beginning of "spring fever."

28—The up and coming Juniors put forth their skill and talent tonight with their presentation of "Green Stockings."

31—Many of the procrastinating Seniors rushed their outlines to completion to get in before the dead line today.

APRIL

10—Easter vacation began and le printemps was really here, we hoped.

MAY

2—The State Scholarship exams were quietly given today.

30—A holiday today, Memorial Day, helped ease the strain of increasing languor for many, but not so for us busy Seniors.

JUNE

13—Swirling skirts and gay music proclaim this night the Senior Ball.

18—Graduation writes finis to our High School lives. Need more be said?

Gossip

Wait! Stop! Look! and Listen!
For here's some fun you don't want to be missin'
It's all about people we all know,
You'll catch on quick if you're not too slow.
And if your name below you find,
We know that you won't really mind,
Because it's all in fun you see,
I'm sure that you will all agree.

Gossip

THE CLASS OF '41 SUGGESTS——

For Mr. Hoch—a more appreciative audience in P. D. Class.

For Study Hall—a truck load of overstuffed chairs for better sleeping conditions.

For Mr. Dick—a spot light to spot those non-singers.

For Mr. Kleckner—some musicians.

For Miss Gresser—a better ventilating system for a cooler room.

For Next Year's Late Comers—Edwin Ritter's ability to climb the stairs in the face of a horde of chapel-goers.

For the '42 GAZETTE Staff—enough ambition to accomplish some work.

For Mr. Cummings—those long sought blinds for the skylight.

For Mrs. Lawrence—some "Male" actors.

For the auditorium — some non-splinterable seats.

For Any Clock Watcher—Reba Shreckengast's watch.

For Any Bored Student—Jim Andrus' ability to entertain himself during a class.

For Miss Blair—a large Spanish Class next year.

For the School Dances—a few Fred Astaires.

For Miss Leathers—a few William Tells.

REMEMBER——?

Mr. Hoch—That's very, very true but—

Miss Gresser—CLASS! ! !

Mr. Cummings—I remember one time—

Mr. Harris—Most unhappy situation—

Mr. Hauke—Well, that was an interesting problem—

Mr. Davis—Be a good boy and everybody will like you.

Miss Gillespie—You owe me a book!

Miss Dickey—Most extraordinary!

Miss Hendricks—It wants a little baking powder.

Mr. Hager—I'm not in the mood to argue—?

Miss Suitor—I was just transacting a little business.

Miss Littlehales—Where's your thimble?

Mr. Fromm—So much for that.

Mrs. Lawrence—Play practice promptly at 6:30.

Miss Blair—Comment allez—vous?

Miss Leathers—Head up, hand under your chin.

Mr. Dick—The boys take the second verse.

Miss Beck—Now these questions at the end of the chapter—

Miss George—Watch out for mistakes.

Mr. Lloyd—Have you seen a dog go by here? (Good old Mickey).
